

POLYBLOC AG | Winterthur, 31. August 2022

Dear customers, partners and valued employees

As CEO and part of Polybloc AG I'm extremely happy to create the future together with you.

I'm 47 years old, married and have 4 children. I'm Swiss and I graduated in mechanical engineering from the ETH Zurich. During the last 20 years I worked in various international industrial companies in various international sales and management positions.

Global warming is a big challenge for us and for generations to come. For me personally, it is an important and daily motivation to contribute to combat global warming with our solutions. The prospect for our business is promising - because our world urgently needs highly efficient solutions for energy recovery.

My predecessor Peter Müller and the Polybloc team have continuously developed the technology for energy recovery systems and delivered products of the highest quality standard. In doing so, they have laid the foundation for a successful future.

Our Polybloc culture can be described as „trust and help each other like in a family and always focus on customer's value add“. By combining this culture, collaborative innovation and uncompromising quality, I want to expand the success of Polybloc AG together with you.

We provide our customers with cutting-edge technology for private, commercial and industrial applications. With our current and future solutions, we are thus making an important contribution to combating global warming.

Only when the best specialists from our partners and from Polybloc closely collaborating with courage and passion we will be able to achieve our goal. Together with our customers and partners, we want to grow sustainably and profitably so that we can invest in our talents and in our future.

I look forward to a good working relationship and I am proud that we are delivering solutions for generations to come.

Yours sincerely,

Reinhard Aurich
